the tv personality explained that her team of makeup artists and their amazing contouring skills are what contribute to the appearance of her more chiseled features.