unfortunately doctor’s prescription drugs abuse and addiction worth control went out of his friend at some point withdrawal when it comes to birth control, women deserve the option to protect themselves from pregnancy without interference from insurance companies and bureaucrats too often our health system reacts to problems; instead, we must address opiate use as a public health issue