camps tends to be cheaper than imprisoning them, but only because boot camp sentences (usually 90 to 120 days) are shorter than traditional sentences. This poses a great enigma: why, after millions of years of flat-lining did brain size and mental capacity suddenly take off? Two million years ago, what jump-started human evolution?

The location, away from major cities, means that Severn24s - the working title - need not worry about future night flight restrictions.
