job gains have slowed to less than half the rate that preceded oakland's and san francisco's adoption last spring of the highest citywide minimum wage in country.

however, primary prevention trials with nsaids, in particular ibuprofen (in combination with omeprazole), are warranted to further investigate the effect of long-term nsaid use on risk of ad.

chronic shortages of equipment, medicine, and health care personnel also contribute to overall poor service, even where people have access to health care facilities.

i like the idea and can see the value in adding rosemary oil, but fyi, i missed my castor oil with emu oil.
