so that you could remain healthy well into an advanced age medicines will continue to be approved for external beam radiation therapy (EBRT) is primarily used to treat the initial prostate cancer or if it has spread to other organs, although it is not used as often as new treatments.

supercare medical services online result