the doctor needs to write the prescription on their form, then they contact you for information on your insurance company and so forth the complainant contends that the respondent registered and is using the disputed domain name if you're a middle-class american who uses an suv for work or to transport a big family, it could be a godsend in fact i am highly considering not taking the rest of it which was why i was reading this in the first place