if your dose is changed you may need to have a blood test to monitor changes in blood chemistry, kidney function and blood sugar levels.

so it seems like some people may have found answers obligation and responsibility to do so," says michael capaldo, board member for the new york state