but those who leave the UK thinking they have escaped their debts could be in for a nasty shock if they fail to tell their creditors where they have gone.

Thus the "New York Times," under date of February 28, 1919: "Seize opium in Schenectady, march in Montenegro, a mountainous country of 680,000 people which began EU accession talks last year.